

Preliminary Announcement

ASIAN PACIFIC CONFERENCE ON SHELL & SPATIAL STRUCTURES APCS2018

29 – 31 OCTOBER 2018, PENANG, MALAYSIA

School of Civil Engineering Universiti Sains Malaysia will be organizing Asian Pacific Conference on Shell & Spatial Structures (APCS2018) in Penang, Malaysia, from 29 to 31 October 2018. We aim to provide an opportunity for all researchers, students and practitioners to share their latest findings and works on the aspects of Analysis, Design and Constuction of Shell and Spatial Structures.

Universiti Sains Malaysia is the second oldest public university in Malaysia. It has four campuses with the main campus located on Penang Island in the northern part of Malaysia.

Penang Island which is about 360km to the north of capital of Malaysia Kuala Lumpur is a popular tourist destination. Georgetown, the state capital of Penang, has been listed as World Heritage Site by UNESCO since 2008 for its well-preserved cultural and historical heritage.

We would like to invite anyone who is interested to come to Penang and join APCS2018.
